Bryan advises clients on strategic mergers, acquisitions, and divestitures; complex corporate finance transactions; equity financings and securities offerings; and the establishment and operations of real estate and energy joint ventures.

He has led numerous acquisitions and dispositions of real estate, oil and gas, and renewable energy assets, among others, in addition to advising clients forming and operating under bespoke joint venture arrangements.

Bryan's primary focus is on finding elegant, business-friendly solutions to complex issues and on striking the right balance between compromise and hard-line negotiation to meet his clients' needs.

Prior to joining the firm, Bryan served as Deputy General Counsel for a private investment firm, where he managed all legal aspects of its private investment platform and real estate funds. Earlier, he practiced at two Am Law 20 firms, where he focused in the areas of capital markets and debt finance.
