

Generating Business Relationships in the Defense & Government Environment (G-BRIDGE)

Linking innovative companies to government opportunities and legal support

What is G-BRIDGE?

- We are a team of highly skilled attorneys with significant government experience that can offer strategic advice to innovative companies seeking to grow their government business.
- Our team will support the pitch and proposal processes, and can also provide ancillary legal services.

Why G-BRIDGE?

- The U.S. government needs innovative commercial solutions to address its most difficult-to-solve problems.
- Companies need a clearinghouse like G-BRIDGE to quickly find the right opportunities for their products and services throughout the government and understand how to succeed in obtaining the contracts.

How does G-BRIDGE work?

- The Lowenstein team collaborates with clients to identify opportunities and facilitate introductions to government contract providers, who controlled $665 billion in obligated funding in 2020.
- Lowenstein offers a full range of complementary legal services, including advice on intellectual property, corporate, compliance, and government contracts issues.
