

I The Tech Group

It takes a different type of vision to turn an innovative idea into a successful business. It takes a different type of investor to back a disruptive new idea. Fueled by technological innovation, the companies that emerge from this combination are different, too. They create intellectual property, develop opportunities, realize profits, and use legal services in a distinctive way.

The Tech Group's mission is to recognize and understand these differences and provide effective, creative solutions to the business challenges they engender. From company formations to Series A venture transactions, from complex intellectual property matters to M&A or IPO exits, we are passionate about helping entrepreneurs and investors achieve their goals—and in doing so, change the world!

Each year, The Tech Group helps create hundreds of new businesses. We currently work with more than 500 early-stage companies and many more that are in growth stage. Entrepreneurs trust us to provide the market connectivity and strategic guidance they need to bring their ideas to fruition and to successful and lucrative exits.

Leading venture investors regularly rely on our commitment to client service, our wealth of experience, and our deep market knowledge. Our outstanding track record with investors has earned us consistent rankings in the top handful of firms closing the highest number of venture transactions each year, as well as a ranking as one of Dow Jones Private Equity Analyst's top five most active law firms. In the past two years alone, we have closed more than 1,000 growth equity, angel, and private equity investments.

Here in The Tech Group, we understand both the challenge and the value of innovation. That is why some of the most iconic companies in the innovation landscape trust us to help create and manage their intellectual property portfolios. Clients like Applied Materials, Intel, Google, Red Hat, Cypress Semiconductor, and Electronic Arts depend on us to anticipate—and meet—their needs rather than merely react.

Because our clients and our industry are different, we believe this industry demands far more than just excellent legal work and top-notch client service. To succeed in the innovation arena, one must contribute as a builder of the community. Unique in the industry, our VentureCrush platform provides support and connectivity to the venture marketplace through a varied array of creative approaches, including VentureCrushNY, VentureCrushSF, VentureCrushAV, VentureCrushFG, and VentureCrushFGX. The success of VentureCrush and other Tech Group programs and events reflects the support and participation of hundreds of entrepreneurs, investors, and innovators in the venture community.
